Foreword

This year's WHITE OAK staff has attempted to get along without a theme. Instead, we have chosen to present the informal attitude that prevails in our school. What we remember are natural, typical activities of the daily routine. Through the staff's pleasure and hard work, we hope that these memorable moments will be preserved in this WHITE OAK. Housatonic has played an important role in the life of this graduating class, and we present herewith the record of our experience.

In Memoriam

Warren C. Clark

September 5, 1906 - December 22, 1966

Our school year was deeply saddened when Warren C. Clark, vice-principal in charge of adult education and teacher of social studies at Housatonic, died December 22, 1966.

Mr. Clark was born in Portsmouth, New Hampshire. He received his A.B. degree from Dartmouth College in 1928 and his M.Ed. degree from the University of New Hampshire in 1933. He taught from 1929 to 1932 in Stamford, Connecticut, and worked in the life insurance business for some years before coming to our school in 1942.

A sports-minded man, Mr. Clark assisted with coaching football here and served as waterfront director at Camp Workcoeman. He was later a familiar figure as the life guard at Lake Wononscopomuc in Lakeville.

For twenty-five years Mr. Clark taught courses in world history, U.S. history, geography, and twentieth-century history to hundreds of students in this school. He also organized a highly successful program of adult education which he faithfully supervised two nights a week year in and year out. In school circles he was especially well known for his enthusiastic contribution to the interscholastic forum for the discussion of important current issues. He not only coached debating teams from our own school but also gave important leadership to other schools in this area.

Housatonic feels profoundly the loss of Warren C. Clark but is richer for the devoted service he rendered.

We entered our senior year under a new administration, the principalship of Edward M. Kirby, himself a graduate of the Housatonic Valley Regional High School. With sensible guidance and professional skill, dedicated teachers helped us to study and to learn these past four years. Members of the non-teaching staff also saw to our comfort, health, and convenience in meeting the demands of the daily routine. To all, we take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks for doing so well by us.

The Class of 1967 has been responsible for a number of innovations. Seniors introduced the Housatonic pin, consisting of the school letters and graduating year. The Senior Ball, held at the White Hart Inn in December, was the first to be held off school grounds. The magazine drive was a smashing success, making members of our class number one salesmen in the state and winning a headstand from the director of the drive. Senior Week was unique in the school's history, with its program of good deeds and nonsense, climaxed by a day when seniors took over administrative and teaching posts.

Seniors Teach Classes for One Day

On the final day of Senior Week, some of the more fearless members of the graduating class ventured into classrooms as teachers. They undertook lessons in all subjects and on all levels, winning high commendation for their efforts. Other seniors assumed administrative responsibilities for the day and carried through the usual school routine.

Toni tutors in homemaking.

Peg takes over math class.

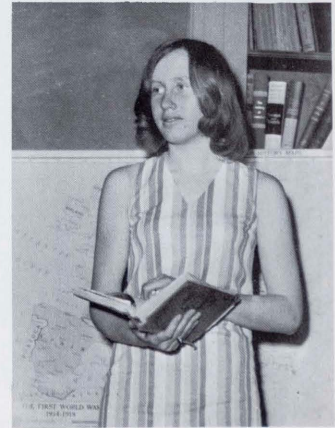

"G" acts for Mr. Holmes.

Henry imitates Mr. Bond.

"Bink" teaches English.

My two months in Finland constituted the most rewarding experience in my life. I learned what it was like to live with bare essentials. I lived on a farm far away from a town, working with my family in the hayfields and milking cows in the barn.

I also traveled through other European countries: Holland, Germany, Denmark, and Sweden. I was in these countries for a few hours, but by seeing the land and the people, I learned much about their cultures.

Just living in another land for two months has given me a better understanding of the world. I owe much to AFS and to this school which gives strong support to this organization.

This is the most wonderful year of my life, being an A.F.S. student in the United States. I am glad that I came here to New England and was able to meet you. I have a new attitude and understanding that I could never have gained from reading alone. In getting to know you, I have learned that America, like other countries of the world, is made up of both good and bad. This is a truth of the world we must recognize. To meet, to know, to talk with and to live with people who are different from ourselves is the best way to build understanding among all mankind.

Vunchi Valyapetch—AFS student from Thailand

For us Europeans, America still has a special meaning because for centuries our hopes and dreams centered upon that distant continent. As a child of ten, I devoured American Indian tales and played Indian games in lederhosen, chasing the most miserable village cock for its feathers.

Now I am at the end of my stay in the United States, and still no Indian has crossed my path. Yet I have found new friends who welcomed me openheartedly, who accepted me as one of their own, and who made me feel that the sun is the same in America as in Austria. So are the stars.

Extracurricular activities meet during a special period in the middle of the day, but student enterprises often involve many hours of work outside of school hours. If the strain on time and energy is too great, a club may be forced to take a vacation. This was the fate this year of the Apparatus and Dramatic clubs. On the other hand, a sparkling new literary magazine was added to the roster of publications that already included a newspaper and yearbook. The Band traveled to the elementary schools. The Student Council led the entire student body in an enthusiastic fundraising campaign which netted over $1,000 to build a Peace Corps school abroad.

Student Council Revises School Rules

After remaining in the background for some time, the Student Council emerged this year with a new idea. At the suggestion of Anne Christinat, a school-to-school project was started, and our school pledged to raise money to build a school in a foreign country where the Peace Corps has representatives. Each class offered ideas for reaching the $1,000 goal. The seniors, headed by Anne Christinat, had a wishing well, worked in local stores, and held a shoeshine during an activity period. Under the leadership of Mel Brickman, the juniors had a car wash, a door-to-door appeal, a bottle-collecting campaign, and babysitting services. The sophomores and freshmen conducted a food sale and a car wash. The goal was surpassed within a very short time.

The fifteen members of the Housatonic Valley Regional Chapter of the National Honor Society were inducted May 24, 1967. The primary aim of this society is to honor those people who have excelled in four areas; character, scholarship, leadership, and service. The four previously elected seniors spoke on these qualities. This year the Housatonic Chapter made Miss Mae E. Gesell an honorary member for the services she has performed for the school.

Mr. Robert Cluett, who has been a master at the Kent School for the past few years, was guest speaker. A reception was held after the ceremonies for members, parents, and guests.

After much discussion in the fall when the 1967 WHITE OAK staff was organized, it was decided not to use a theme as in the past, but then when has the Class of 1967 ever followed tradition? The staff was agreed, however, that efforts should be centered primarily on candid pictures.

Some members attended a meeting of the Connecticut Scholastic Press Association in November when delegates from various schools had an opportunity to learn more about yearbook publication, its benefits and problems. The staff certainly had its problems but, with the help of Mr. Kobler, finally managed to put together this publication.

This year the AVA Club has again performed its duties with efficiency and precision. This is an "unsung-hero" club in which boys give up many free periods and often class time to show movies and to operate various other kinds of AVA apparatus for the benefit and pleasure of other classes. This year's seniors tip their hats to the AVA Club for a job well done.

The Teen-Aides are volunteer workers at Sharon Hospital. On their assigned nights, these girls work on different floors, bringing juices, flowers, mail, and messages. They also hold bake sales to earn money toward a scholarship for one of the students at Regional, or they use some of this money in making favors for the patients during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

AY "Rehabilitates" Student Attitudes

The Allied Youth is the largest organization at Housatonic and the only one of its kind in Connecticut. This year the AY chapter sent delegates to both the International Conference in Nova Scotia and the North East Conference at Arlington, Massachusetts. AY has sponsored several dances and food sales to raise money for a scholarship to be awarded to a needy and deserving senior.

Not unless we have the majority, can we all go the Sam's.

Bibliotechnicians Assist in Library

The organization is composed of two groups of agents with separate duties: the 020 agents help to maintain the circulation desk, charge materials in and out, aid in retrieving research materials, and help in returning materials to the shelves; the 007 agents conduct searches for the benefit of the faculty, help other students in their research, and compile limited bibliographies. Agents, selected on the basis of abilities, apply early in the year. The students render a great service to the school, its student body, and faculty.

FHA sends Packages to Vietnam

Future Homemakers of America is a national organization open to high school students participating in the home economics program of the school. This organization provides students with additional homemaking experiences outside of class. The activities accomplished by the Housatonic Chapter of FHA this year included participation in National FHA Week from April 2-8, sending food packages to Vietnam, and giving a party for the school faculty on Valentine's Day.

FFA Members Landscape Courtyard

The Housatonic Chapter of Future Farmers of America is an organization open to all interested students taking Vocational Agriculture. The main purpose of the organization is to promote leadership and cooperation among its members. Members learn how to take part in meetings, follow parliamentary procedure, speak in public, and cooperate with their fellow students in programs for individual and community betterment. Each year the chapter sells Christmas wreaths and trees, and sends representatives to the National Convention in Kansas City.

THE ACORN, Housatonic's new literary magazine, was published in the spring. The staff started this ambitious enterprise in the fall with high hopes when students attended the Connecticut Scholastic Press Association annual convention to learn more about literary publications. The Regional School Board gave enthusiastic support to the project. By February, a deadline for contributions had been set, and the staff selected materials and edited them for publication. The magazine, well-received by the student body, contains art work and photographs as well as poetry, short fiction, and essays contributed by both faculty and students.

Club Studies Greek and Roman Theater

Nos Septem Collium is for all students of Latin. The purpose of this Latin Club is to study aspects of ancient Rome other than the language. This year members of the organization studied the Greek and Roman theater, including plays and playwrights whose influence is felt on modern Broadway.

Club Members Debate Current Issues

This year Challenge, the debating club at Housatonic, tried to focus its discussions on topics of major interest to students today. Subjects ranged from the use of drugs to various systems of grading used in schools.

Club members were deeply saddened by the sudden death of their adviser, Mr. Warren C. Clark, who had been the guiding spirit of the organization for many years and who had played a leading part in organizing interscholastic forums in this part of Connecticut. Inspired by his example, club members resolved to maintain the high standards that he set for them.

Eklund. First Row: A. Vanicky, W. Tadiello, P. Segalla, R. Crosby, vice-president; D. Webster, K. Freudenberg, M. Warner, R. Washburn, J. Catinelli.

Armed with a cursory knowledge of photographic skills and a thirst for finding photogenic material, these shutter-bugs galavant from darkroom to natural settings. Mr. Miller, who has guided the Photo Club for several years, again accepted the challenge. Under his guiding hand, the techniques of picture-making have come to life. This club offers an opportunity not only to have many hours of fun but also to learn what can become a life long hobby.

Club Investigates Properties of Motion

This year the Science Club was directed by Mr. Higgins as faculty adviser. The purpose of the club is to give interested students a chance to express their ideas in every field of science. For each meeting a student prepared an experiment which interested him. The main project undertaken by the club dealt with the laws of motion. The building of a crossbow showed this basic property of physics. Student interest in this project helped to make it a successful endeavor for the Science Club.

Chess Club Represented at Tournament

This year the Chess Club reached some of the goals dreamed of when the organization started in 1963. The club now admits freshmen and sophomores as well as juniors and seniors. It also sent Bruce Bosserman to the state tournament eliminations.

To be a member of the Chess Club one need only be fond of the game and have a willingness to learn. This year all international tournaments were posted so that even beginners might learn from the present "greats" like Fisher, Petrosian, and Larsen.

The Biology Club, somewhat limited in laboratory activity by a membership of over forty students, continued in the tradition of entertainment and education in the biological field. Several speakers — a game biologist, a veterinarian, a medical pathologist, and a psychologist — and a series of films provided the main part of the club's activity. A trip to the Sharon Hospital Pathological Laboratory was also part of the year's program.

Officers and program committee, in cooperation with faculty adviser Mr. England, planned the year's activity and made the recommendation that in the future a limitation be placed on membership to provide more opportunity for laboratory work.

Lights, camera, action!

This year, under the guidance of Mr. Heyworth and Mr. Sinclair, the dramatic club, known as Wig and Mask, tried—unsuccessfully—to produce the play J.B. by Archibald MacLeish. After much work on the part of the principals, it was finally decided early in March to dissolve the organization because of the failure of other members to support this ambitious production. Next year the club plans to be selective in its membership to avoid a repetition of this unfortunate situation.

Psychology Club Visits Various Hospitals

The Psychology Club is a group of seniors who wish to further their studies of the psychology course given at Regional. The meetings consisted of polls, experiments with ESP cards, movies, and games. Some of the highlights of the year were trips to various mental hospitals in the area. Among these hospitals were Lynn-Haven Rest Home, Fairfield Hills State Hospital, and Wassaic State School. Other interesting activities were the talks given to the club members by Mr. Gordon Holmes of Newtown, Connecticut, and Dr. Millar of the Salisbury Psychiatric Center. The talks were concerned with the various treatments of the mentally ill.

The Varsity Club is open to all boys who have received a varsity letter in one of the sports. It is supervised by our athletic director, Mr. Edward Tyburski. The club performs many useful functions such as moving bleachers, cleaning up after games, and helping the maintenance work on the activity field. Club members officiate at intramurals also. In addition, the club sponsors the grade school basketball tournament and the Varsity Varieties. Each year the Varsity Club gives a $100 scholarship to one of its senior members.

Artists Learn Use of Equipment

If you entered Room 110 during Activity Period during this year, you would usually find a group of responsive art students working under the professional instruction of Mrs. Eaton. In the drawing and painting classes the students were shown the fundamentals of the use of basic equipment. Then they utilized this equipment in drawing, painting, and other forms of design. Students learned to use appropriate tools for producing still lifes, portraits, abstracts, creative drawings, collages, and special occasion cards.

The Band toured the six elementary schools this year to promote interest in band instruments. During the year the Band also gave successful performances in assemblies in addition to the annual Spring Concert.

This was the first year that the Orchestra played outside of the school auditorium. Members of this organization played in the traditional Spring Concert and in the annual Christmas Assembly. There was an interesting addition to the Orchestra and Housatonic's music department this year — the oboe.

Comprised of the more interested and presumably more talented singers of the school, the small mixed chorus sings a variety of songs which are generally more difficult than those sung by the large chorus. As with all the music clubs, a great deal of preparation goes into the Christmas Assembly and the Spring Concert. This group takes a special satisfaction in performing their songs well. Some of their favorites include such a wide range as Ave Maria, The Shadow of Your Smile, and This Ole House.

Barbershoppers Reach High Standard

This year the Barbershoppers have achieved a very high standard. Mr. Meder has worked hard with the boys, and the result is evident every time they perform. With the graduation of the seniors, gaps will be left, but the members of this year's club are sure that they will be filled with enthusiastic and energetic newcomers.

Chorus is comprised of students who may or may not be gifted with golden voices. It met every Tuesday and Thursday of the month and among the highlights of the year were the Spring Concert and Varsity Varieties. Mr. Meder devoted many hours to perfecting the sound that came from the members. Chorus is a lot of fun, but it takes hard work to get the sound that the chorus is noted for.

Math Club Publishes Helpful Booklet

The Math Club, under the guidance of Mr. Bond and Mr. Luce, used the year to make a mathematical workbook. The workbook was designed to be used by all students who had difficulty in applying mathematics to their problems in science. Science teachers were consulted to determine the topics in mathematics that needed to be included, and each member then wrote up several topics. These were all arranged under the editorship of Marvin Marshall.

This year the gym team, headed by Coach Tyburski, worked steadily on the various gymnastic equipment. Each member of the team improved his ability and performance to do advanced routines on certain pieces of apparatus.

This year the team was made up mostly of underclassmen. Coach Tyburski, along with four seniors who were on the team, tried to assist those younger boys who looked to be a promising group of performers for the next year.

French Club Takes Trip to Art Museum

The French Club is an organization which allows students to increase their ability in speaking that language. Each meeting is opened by singing "La Marseillaise." Most of the meeting time, however, is taken up by playing a game which consists of asking questions in French, for the most part about France. At the end of the year the member who has won the most games receives a prize.

This year the French Club visited the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City, where they were particularly interested in the French art exhibited there.

Although no athletic team enjoyed a championship season, participants in all sports had the satisfaction of knowing that they had put forth their best effort. While the traditional sports of football, basketball, baseball, cross-country, and track continued to be popular, soccer entered the varsity lists this year. Golf was revived this spring at Housatonic and, like soccer, made a good showing. Spectator interest was greatly stimulated by a newly-formed Pep Club. Intramurals attracted many students and gave the girls opportunities other than in cheerleading to engage in athletic activity.

Mountaineers Have Hot and Cold Season

Coaches Higgins, Mahoney, and Tyburski

The Mountaineers were, by far, the most colorful, if not the most successful football team that Regional has seen in the past few years. Led by Co-Captains Nania and Lovell, the team ran into trouble at the beginning of the season but showed what they could really do when they were supposed to be down. Wayne Greene led the Mountaineers on offense, doing a fine job at quarterback. Norm Stoddard was defensive captain. Senior standouts on offense were halfback Bobby Gales, flanker Norm Stoddard, and ends Bill Lorch and Pete Nania. Defensive standouts were tackle Sonny Crawford, linebacker Bob Washburn, and safetyman Don Hurlbutt.

Many seniors played on both the offensive and defensive teams. These stalwarts were Norm Stoddard, Henry Costanzo, John Sargent, and Chip Lovell.

The 7-11 record of the 1966-67 basketball team does not show the real potential that they possessed. Hampered by injuries and sickness, the team limped through a disappointing season, and wound up with a 97-60 victory over Mt. Everett. This game was the sweetest of the year, for half-way through the season we had been soundly trounced, 84-49, by the same team.

Captain Norm Stoddard ably led the Mountaineers, setting an amazing total of seven school records. His personal high of the season was a 39 point output vs. Farmington. In this game, he also eclipsed Don Atkins' field goal record of 13. Among Norm's other records are most points scored in a season (140 in all), most free throws in a game (13), most free throws in a season (155), and best scoring average (21.9). Norm was chosen by the league's coaches for the Northwest Conference team. Butch Walsh was chosen for the second team even though he was out part of the season with a virus infection.

Next year's captain, Hoot Belter, was chosen before the annual varsity faculty game. The aging, but still mobile, principal, Mr. Kirby, led the faculty to a 68-66 victory, ending a disappointing but memorable year.

Golf Team Tees Off for First Year

For the first time in several years Housatonic had a golf team in the spring of '67. Athletic director Coach Tyburski acted as instructor for the team of eight. Two seniors, D. Riva and R. Gailes, teed off for their first and last year of Housatonic's golf team. Outstanding underclassmen were G. Bergenty, J. Foley, and S. DeProdocini. The spectators were few because the matches took place mostly during school time and at some distance for away matches. The golf team was at a disadvantage because of the lack of a golf course on the school grounds. All of the home meets were held at the Canaan public golf course. Practice was hard to obtain although fundamentals were gone over and drilled on the school grounds. The team had an advantage in the sense that all the boys chosen to be on the team play golf as a hobby, on Canaan's course. The matches were scored on the total of any team members. The team with the lowest number of strokes won the match. Housatonic's golf team was a success in its first year and will increase in popularity in the future.

Adolf

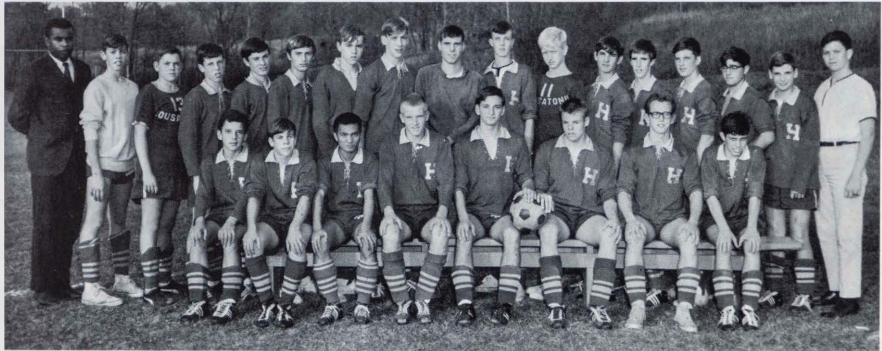

In the fall of 1966 Housatonic fielded its first varsity soccer team in some twenty years. The team had a surprisingly good season, with a 5-3-1 over-all record and a third-place finish in a tough Northwest Conference.

Mr. Samuel Holmes, the soccer coach, provided the team with both spirit and knowledge of the sport. This year's soccer team experienced many memorable as well as disappointing moments, but a good team learns from past experiences. Housatonic had outstanding performances all season from many of the starting eleven, many of whom will be returning next season, including the team's co-captains, Mike Cleaveland and Ray Hotchkiss. There is no reason why Housatonic should not be among the contenders for the Northwest Conference league title next year.

Trackmen Perform Well Despite Defeats

Although the track team finished the season with only three victories out of the ten meets it participated in, two veteran trackmen, Co-Captains Pat Redmond and Don Hurlbutt, turned in outstanding performances in running and jumping, respectively.

Redmond, backbone of the squad in running, placed fifth in the two-mile race at the regional meet to qualify for the state finals. Although he did not place in this competition, his showing was especially good in view of the fact that this was the first year he had entered this event.

Hurlbutt, a four-year member of the team, established school records in the high jump, triple jump, and running broad jump. He placed second in these events at the regional meet and went on to participate in the state finals.

Other stalwarts were Spencer Monroe on the pole vault and Henry Costanzo and Walter Benesch on the shot put and discus.

The Cross-Country team was captained this year by Pat Redmond who proved to be an excellent leader, setting the high school's course record of 15:02. He lost only one meet out of seven, which is the best that any one runner has done in Housatonic's history. Although this was not the most successful season for the team, it certainly proved outstanding for our captain.

Look at all the worms.

The baseball team had its ups and downs in a season of nine wins and seven losses, good for a third-place tie in the Northwest Conference. Playing for the first time in many years under a new coach, Mr. Mahoney, the team was young and inexperienced. Their scrappy brand of ball paid off, however, in some big victories, notably an opening-game shutout against Farmington, last year's league champs, and late-season wins over two tough rivals,

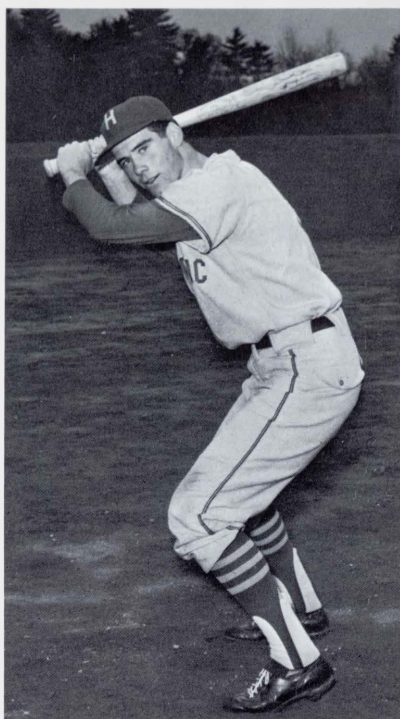

Gilbert and Avon.

Highlights of the season were the steady catching of Co-Captain Mike Cleveland, who went through the entire season without a passed ball; the pitching of Tony Oskwarek (6-2); and the all-around performance of three sophomores, Pat Denneen and the McArthur twins. The Junior Varsity compiled a fine 10-6 record under its new coach, Mr. Higgins.

Features are traditionally those evening affairs that bring us together in various non-academic activities: dances, plays, and other entertainments. Highlights of the social season are the Junior Prom in the spring of the junior year and the Senior Ball the following December during the holidays. Both were elegant affairs, with the away-from-school Ball exclusively for seniors this year. Senior Week included a fine production of Bell, Book and Candle. The big wind-up, of course, included Class Day and our own twenty-eighth annual Commencement.

Spring of 1966 brought about some changes in the annual custom of the Junior Prom. The announcement of the queen was delayed until the night of the event.
