“Every path should be worth the walk”

“But, the path is thorny and rough,” they may say as their eyes find where the bridge begins.

Their trembling hands struggle to grasp and hold on to the railing for support as their weary feet anticipate the jagged stones ahead. Their insecurity does not lie in the moment that the bridge originates. Their apprehension lingers in their inability to see where the path ends on the other side. Their cloud of blind fear inspires within them a sudden yearning to turn and swiftly take the other way. They seem to already know the other path will favor them more promisingly. But, how can they know that one path's thorns will not lead them to a rose?

“Oh, I'm certain this path is the easier one,” they implore you with a rash of urgency, pulling at your arm to march the other way. “No rocks to cut our feet on. And sunlight, so, that we can see.”

And although the warm sunlight may tempt you to stray from the bridge that opens up ahead - you rest and wonder what kind of light you might see standing across and looking back?

And deep down you know that truth. It's far better to cross the gulf than to stay and wonder if the view may have been even better at all.

Calluses may roughen your feet like dry leather. Splinters may crack your fingers like wrinkled husks of corn. And those scars may never fade. They'll remain little reminders of the challenges you faced and of the lessons that you learned.

Every pebble on that intimidating bridge is one less challenge to face tomorrow. It's one more scar to be proud of. One more story to tell. The four years of high school is about mastering the ability to face the large stones and the small pebbles when they litter your path. Every bridge must lead somewhere. Just as high school's bridge comes to an end and leads to a new beginning.

But, no matter what, every wound is a blessing. Every path should be worth the walk. Because life should remain unabridged.

Dedication.

The Class of 2011 dedicates The White Oak to Denise Dower. For three years Mrs. Dower acted as our class advisor, until she retired after thirty-four years of dedicated service at Housatonic Valley Regional High School. Mrs. Dower always kept the best interests of our class and community in mind. Through her involvement in the CROP Hunger Walk and other causes, she raised awareness and influenced the entire student body to think of others before themselves.

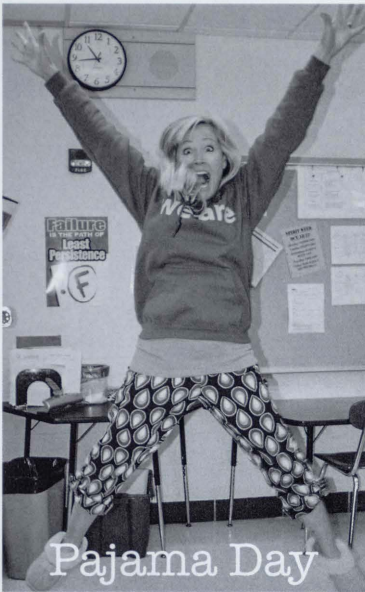

THANK YOU!

Exploring the Bridge

Schools, like bridges, are made up of many aspects. Clubs, organizations, and school events help bridge the gap between Housatonic and the community. As a bridge supports its traffic, the Region One community offers its encouragement, assistance, and expertise to the students of Housatonic.

Blood Drive

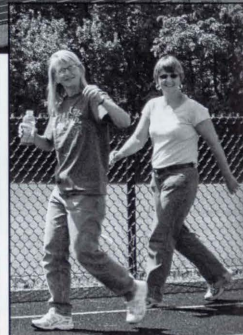

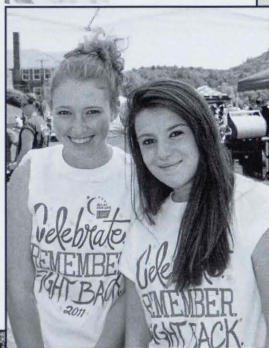

HVRHS hosted two blood drives this year. Led by advisor Bonnie Moody, over twenty student and community volunteers helped make sandwiches, register, escort and provide refreshments for blood donors. A total of sixty-seven pints of blood were donated.

Relay For Life

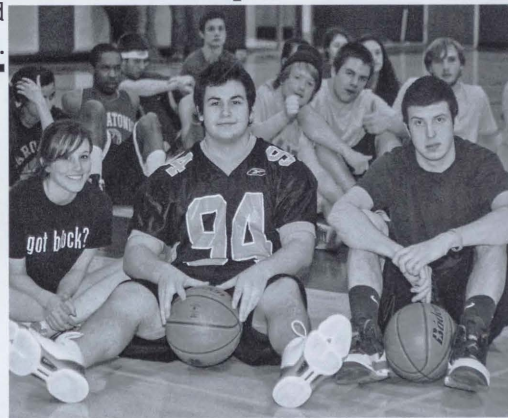

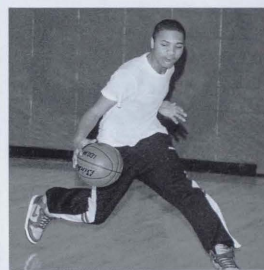

The June 2011 American Cancer Society Relay for Life raised over $51,000 to help enhance the research for cancer treatment. There were over 400 participants including survivors, caretakers, and family and friend team members. Our school community was very proud to be a part of this moving event.

Hoops for Heart

The 16th annual Hoops for Heart was held on Friday, March 11, 2011. It consisted of sixty-three students competing in a 3-on 3 double elimination event. The winning team was Corey Christensen, Forrest Hayden and Ali Perotti. The second place team was Donyell Williams, Jose Rincon and Lindsey Cullmer. This year's event raised $2,750.00 for the American Heart Association. Top fundraisers were Lauren Kosciusko with $115.00, followed by Megan Williams and Quentin Kindred who both raised $100.00.

Battle Of The Bands

This year's Battle of the Bands was filled with fierce competition. All walks of music came together to compete for the title. After all of the bands performed, Star Craft To Pluto, featuring Ben Paley, Van Daalhuizen and Dylan Vadakin, came out victorious. The boys hope to keep playing music in the future, whether it is together as a band or just hanging out with friends jamming. Star Craft to Pluto will utilize the prize money to further their musical careers. The musicians that competed in this event know that it's not about the money and fame, but the music and the art of self expression. Year after year, the contest has become more competitive and it's popularity continues to grow as well.

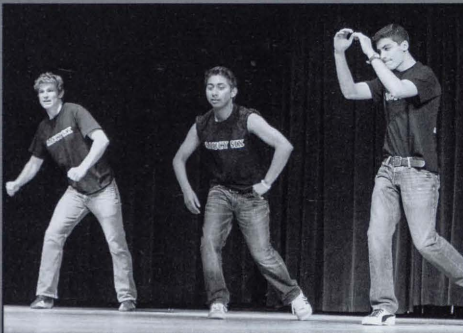

Mr. Housatonic

The third annual Mr. Housatonic competition was held on May 13. Six contestants vied for the coveted crown in a number of judged events. The judges of the "Saucy Six" were Mrs. Prince, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Viscariello, and Mr. Cannon. The opening number was a dance routine to "Party in the USA" by Miley Cyrus. The contestants then performed in their formal wear and personality/fun outfits, followed by an untalent/talent event where the guys got to show off what they could do. The remaining events were swimwear, a question and answer session, and finally a closing dance routine to "Single Ladies" by Beyonce. Once the judges decided on a winner, it was announced at the crowning ceremony. The returning King from last year, Ryan King, crowned Mr. Housatonic of 2011, Reilly Lynch. That night would not have been possible without the heads of production: Morgan Lamb and Megan Brown; the emcees: Hunter Nelson and Emma Olownia; the helpers: Hannah Schiffer, Erik Gabrielson, Cristian Umana, Mrs. Veatch, Mr. Peck, Mr. Guy, Mr. DeMazza, and Mrs. O'Reilly; the technical crew: Mr. Cannon, Cristian Umana, and Erik Gabrielson; the dance instructor: Hanna Schiffer; and tabulator: Mrs. Veatch.

Contestants

Reilly Lynch is the epitome of a modern renaissance man. Along with fulfilling the social requirement to maintain his status as a “cool kitten,” Reilly also ranks #3 in his class. Reilly is no longer working to get in to college; colleges are working to get him. On top of this, he is a soccer star, earning all-state honor himself. Many female fans attend the games because they like the way his shorts fit him, revealing long, muscular, perfect thighs and legs. His deep blue eyes hold untold depths, composing his own poetry, that has ladies swooning. Reilly Lynch is the perfect gentleman.

Known throughout the world as “El Tigre,” and “The Bearded Buffalo,” Michael Kenny is truly a god among men. Michael is a prime example of the fact that God exists. His chiseled abs and legendary facial complexion makes Gandhi look like Charles Manson. His training in massage and acupuncture only build his legend. Michael once donated his own kidney to a man in need using only a paperclip and a bag of Doritos. His intelligence and good looks prove that Michael Kenny deserves to be Mr. Housatonic 2011.

Kai Haaland is really, really cool. Not only is he handsome, but he also knows a lot about dinosaurs. Kai has a quirky personality, and he always wins the hearts of the ladies. Kai's future ambitions include growing a mustache to increase his sexiness. Only then will he become truly irresistible. Many women tend to get lost in his piercing blue eyes. His godlike body serves the same function as that of a chick-magnet. In third grade he received a gold star for a drawing of a Velociraptor. All in all, Kai Haaland is a worthy recipient, and a fierce competitor for the title of Mr. Housatonic 2011.

Will Schutt is legendary for his wild adventures. Formally known as “Wilbur” by the ladies, Will spends his time looking suave by catching some rays on the beach. Voted “Most Hard Working” in football,

Will is the man who never disappoints. With his 100-watt smile, he has all the ladies swooning. You always hear him sweet talking the teachers and works hard all day until the job is done. Don't miss this sexy man drive by in his 2010 Dodge Challenger—the perfect hot ride.

When Nadav Mortman was born, his hair looked amazing. Now, 17 years later, he still has amazing hair. He is momentarily willing to hide his gorgeous lettuce with the Mr. Housatonic crown. Competition? What competition? When Nadav is not excelling at sports, working out, being a genius, or playing the piano, Nadav is busy saving the world. Nadav has a sexy style and tends to shop at J. Crew often. When he's not admiring his many trophies, he is busy shaving his chest hair. Nadav is clearly the perfect candidate for Mr. Housatonic.

It is said that in the beginning there was nothing, and then there was Alejandro Hernández. When it comes down to it, you know all that really matters is Alejandro; perfect flow, impeccable swagger, and a game that drives all the ladies locas.

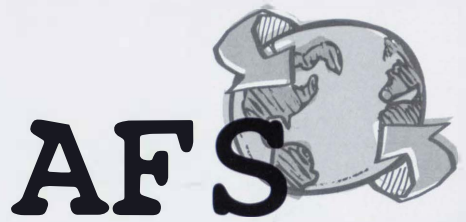

His style is so profound that it has allowed him to model his beautiful body around the world, gaining international superstar status. On weekends, you'll usually catch him on his yacht poppin' champagne and sweet talking the ladies in three different languages. Truly the most envied and desired man alive.

Homecoming

Students Described Homecoming as...

Nichata Tawasinchanadech Thailand (Dear)

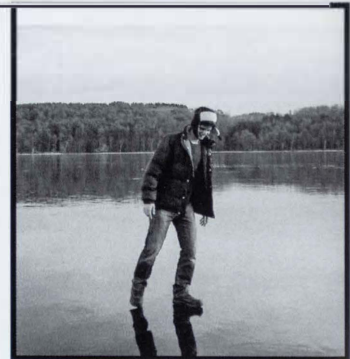

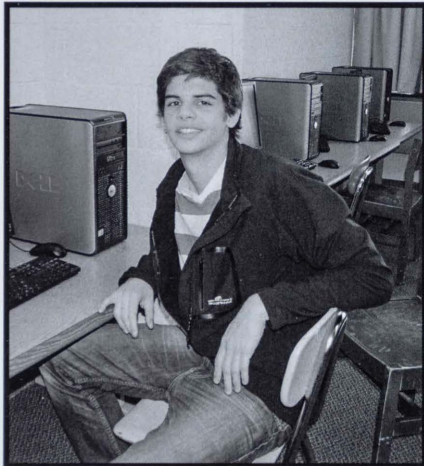

Dear's first impression of Housy was that "...the students were very nice." Residing in Falls Village with the Lovejoy family, they made her feel at home and a part of their family. At first Dear thought it would be difficult to make friends and to understand our language. When asked what she would miss the most about being here, she answered, "I will miss my host family, my friends, and most of all the chocolate chip cookies."

Berkay Alpagut Turkey

Coming from a city environment in Turkey, it was a big change when Berkay arrived in Sharon to live with the Kennys. Berkay sees the Kennys, "...as my real family; they are not different from my family back home." His first impression of Housy was that the school was "...great. Everyone was welcoming and helpful." He also thought that the students were the best part of the school.

When asked if he would recommend AFS to other students he replied, "Yes because it is a life-time experience and it was great! It wasn't easy at first but I am so happy that I came to stay with the Kennys and that I came to Housy."

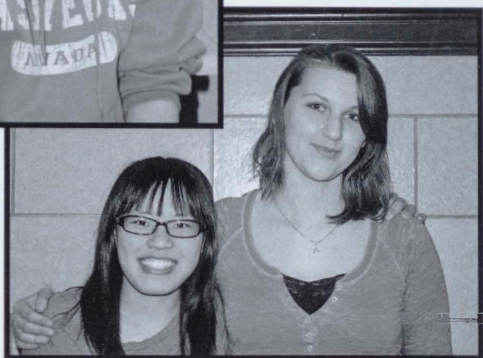

Shiho Tamaki

Japan

Shiho came to Housy as an exchange student through the organization Youth For Understanding (YFU). She likes her host family, the Sutterlins, who treated her like family. Shiho expected America to be like "90210". People in Japan do not even say "I love you," so she was surprised to see couples kissing in the hallways. When asked if she recommended YFU to others she replied "no" because it was not as easy as she thought it would be and talking to American students was hard. Shiho will miss the "Japanese food, and restaurants" when she leaves America. She also commented that, "If you want to visit another country, you should choose Japan."

Cassidy Hammond

Cassidy spent two weeks in the summer and two weeks during winter in Colombia. She lived with the family of our former exchange student Javier Castellanos Cruz. Living in their house was his mother Luz Mery, father Armando, 20-year-old brother Rafael Armando, 2-year-old brother Charlie, and 12-year-old cousin Marcela. Much of their time was spent traveling throughout the state of Boyacá which is home to the town of Cuciata where they live. While there she was able to use her Spanish and become even more fluent in the language. On day trips they visited family, thermal pools, waterfalls, and many other interesting places that exemplify the beauty of Colombia. She spent Christmas in Colombia and was given the opportunity to experience the culture during the holiday. This was an amazing experience and she plans to return to Colombia to visit Javier and his family who so nicely accepted her into their home.

The few of us lucky and brave enough to go on the China trip this year were incredibly fortunate. The trip was an amazing experience of new foods, friends, and great culture exposure. We visited many famous spots that represented China's rich history, such as the Forbidden City, the Summer Palace, and the home of Confucius. At our first meal we fumbled with chopsticks to pick up grains of rice, but by the end of the trip we were adeptly grabbing slices of duck and other uncommon foods. One student even confessed to trying bull testicles. Our host families were very welcoming, although we were a bit shocked by the rigorous academic system there. However, the school officials were wonderful hosts; many friendships were formed, some of which are continuing via e-mail. Our students managed to hold their own in ping pong and basketball! ~ Reilly Lynch

CHINA

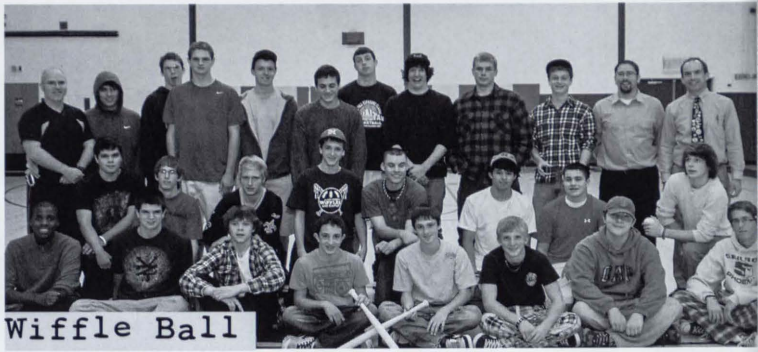

Québec

In May, twenty-one students from Madame Becker's French classes embarked on a trip to Québec City, sponsored by Cicerone of Québec City, Canada. For four days the students put aside their textbooks in order to experience handling themselves in another culture and language. The environment is all-French. The tour guide, Charles, was a native Québécois. The students stayed in the heart of old Québec at the Hôtel au Jardin du Gouverneur. Built more than 170 years ago, the hotel is named after the beautiful park that it faces overlooking the Saint Lawrence River. The result was a real immersion into the French Canadian milieu. Students found themselves reliving early Canadian history as they visited one of the Martello Towers, Place Royale, Notre-Dame-des-Victoires, Batterie Royale, and Petit Champlain. Also planned was a drive through the countryside of the Côte-de-Beaupré. "Chemin Royal" (the oldest highway in Canada) winds past stone farmhouses, outdoor bread ovens and "calvaires" (wayside crosses). Stops were made at Chutes Ste-Anne (a splendid waterfall rushing from a height of 243 feet), Montmorency Falls (higher than Niagara Falls) and the Basilica of Ste-Anne de Beaupré, the famous Roman Catholic shrine. A traditional rural supper was held at L'Érablière le Chemin du Roy. Every student gained new experiences from traveling outside of the country. Memories were created that will never be forgotten or replaced.

Envirothon is North America's largest environmental education competition. Housatonic has competed at the state level for a number of years under the guidance of Mr. David Moran. After placing second at the state competition last May, the team worked hard to reclaim the state title by placing first and second in the state out of 35 teams, enabling them to reach the 2011 Canon Envirothon Competition in New Brunswick, Canada in the summer. What they accomplished can be greatly attributed to the dedication of their advisor and the combined efforts of the team members. Everyone worked together to solve every problem, thus achieving more than other teams whose members stood alone. The team hopes to spread the word about Envirothon and make sure that environmental awareness and stewardship are promoted universally.

The Who's CTEKS had a "fantastic" season. Coached and mentored by mechanic Andy Brockway, engineer Dave Van Deusen, and electrician, coordinator and "behind the scenes" helper Cindy Fuller, the team was at the top of their game this year. With only seven members (including the three "Purdy Boys"), we were able to stay within the top 7% in our competitions," Ms. Fuller says. No particular competition was hard and with only one battery fault, the team was almost unstoppable. Their biggest accomplishment was "Building an amazing robot with only seven students!" Congratulations on a fine season.

Art Show

The Blue and Gold at the White is the premiere showcase for HVRHS students' visual art. Held annually at the White Gallery in Lakeville, students display works in various mediums including acrylic, watercolor, egg tempera, charcoal, graphite, ink, printmaking, photography and sculpture. Professional artists serve as judges, awarding prizes for best in painting, photography and sculpture. According to the Mr. Prindle, "An exhibit of this scale takes much effort and would not happen without support from the community." Primary benefactors included Tino Galuzzo of the White Gallery and John Borden, Sotheby's International Realty.

Rotary Interact is a student organization of Rotary International. Led by their advisors, Mrs. DiCorleto and Mr. Estes, the Interactors work together to help local community members with yard work, house cleaning, etc., or they collect donations in order to provide help for those in need. The group also fundraises to send shelter boxes to disaster stricken countries, such as Haiti and Japan. This year Rotary Interact also sent a shelter box to Alabama, which inspired the Salisbury Rotary Club to do the same. Each Interactor lives by the Rotary motto, "Service Above Self," for Rotary is an organization to inspire students to help locally and internationally.

BREAK A LEG!

The 2011 White Oak staff was an extremely dedicated group that exemplified the meaning of "Team." They put forth a tremendous amount of effort in order to create a spectacular yearbook for our school! Many long hours were logged, both inside and outside of the classroom. Yearbook is a HUGE commitment and everyone put their best effort into it. Thanks again to EVERYONE on The White Oak staff!

Traveling the Bridge

Long bus rides, anticipation for big games, and final scores, all combine to create a bond between players that can never be broken. Each opponent takes the team down a different route, some more direct, while others may involve some traffic along the way. Sometimes the route leads them to tough losses, but the bridge that guides them home motivates athletes to give it their all.

Genevieve Terrall

Ellie Yahn

The 2010 girls' soccer team struggled in the beginning of the season, but improved tremendously by the last game. Co-Captain Ellie Yahn said, "Our scoreboard does not reflect the talent we had on the field." Their first game against Shepaug resulted in a 5-0 loss, but the girls never felt discouraged. Their mental toughness eventually made the team strong enough for a tie against Shepaug on their home turf. Co-Captain Genevieve Terrall said, "Our season was a lot of fun, but it was definitely a challenge. In the end, growing stronger as a team and getting along was more important than winning."

SCOREBOARD

The Boys' soccer team had an incredible season. Coached by Mr. Belter, the boys fought their way to a second place finish in the Berkshire League and made it to the third round of states. The team suffered a hard loss at Old Lyme, but kept fighting with the help of their fans. Many starting players faced injuries, but together the team stepped up to keep winning. A major upset occurred when the team beat undefeated Nonnewaug 2-1. Captain Reilly Lynch said, "We were our only enemy." Andrew Hoffmann and Reilly Lynch were named to the All State Class 8 Boys' Soccer and First Team All BL teams. Griffin Randall made Second Team All Berkshire League.

LET'S DROP SOME BEATS

The Housy volleyball team struggled with winning, despite the incredible talent they had. There were many freshmen and new players who joined the team, but with eight returning players, skills were developed quickly. The team had a big win against Brookfield—a tough team that they had not defeated since the '07 season. The girls pulled off the win with everyone staying focused and having their hearts in the game. Co-Captain Danielle Kearns made First Team All League and Second Team All State. Co-Captain Megan Williams said, “With so many young players, the future of Housy Volleyball has a lot of promise.”

FIELD HOCKEY

OUR STICKS ARE CLANKIN'

Led by Coach Robin Sweeney and Assistant Coach Maria Grassi, the field hockey team played an awesome season, with evident improvements from last year. The team came close to winning several games this season. Even through tough losses they held their heads high to finish off the season strong. Senior Captain Molly Lovejoy commented about the team's improvements this season, "We started off the year slow, but after intense training and hard work we came back to play an excellent second half of our season."

The Mountaineer football team improved its record from 1-9 in 2009 to 5-5 in 2010. Season highlights included a Friday night lights victory over Canton which capped a 2-0 start to the season. Senior Tanner Brissett became the school's career rushing leader after rushing for over 1800 yards behind the dominant blocking of the offensive line. Junior Jacob Foley was the leader of our defense which helped us a great deal. The Mountaineers hope to continue the hard work and improvements for the years to come.

Danielle Kearns

The Lady Mountaineers had a challenging season. The final record doesn't reflect the skill the team truly had. Co-Captain Danielle Kearns said, "We lost a few games by a point or two, which should have been multiple wins toward our record." The team struggled to focus during difficult games, but worked together to pull off a big win against Thomaston. Danielle also mentioned, "We did a good job not giving up right away." After the Thomaston win, the team grew stronger and overcame many obstacles. Co-Captain Jaime Conklin commented, "The first time we played them they got inside our heads and beat us, by a lot. Once they came to play here, we had our minds set to win, and we did." This game was a significant moment during the season. The team proved that when they were focused and were communicating on the court, they could play their A-game and beat anyone. Danielle Kearns achieved All League and All State honors.

With this kind of season it was easy to see why the boys qualified for states this year. With a huge win over Litchfield, the team went on to beat Prince Tech in the first round of states. Going from a group of player's to a team took some hardwork and motivation. Once all was said and done the boys grew from an unconfident group of players to a lean, mean, dream team. They may have not gone all the way this year but with the same desire and determination Housy will have no problem contending for the state title next year.

The irony of the ski team season was that it was cut to just three meets because of the snow! Overall, everyone improved by leaps and bounds. The team finished undefeated and brought home the championship cup. The team had a strong varsity and an excellent JV squad. According to Co-Captain Jessica Leslie, "there were a few injuries and disqualifications, but we stuck together and managed to pull out the wins." Jessica placed first overall in the giant slalom and slalom for the female racers.

INDOOR TRACK

Our indoor track team started out as an unofficial sport last year, but this was the first year athletes were able to compete. The season focused on training for the spring, but there were a few meets. Myles Clohessy and Ben Heacox qualified to compete at the Class B state championships. Overall, Myles placed fourth in the 600 meter and Ben placed fifth in the shot put throw. Coach MacFarland said, "You get out what you put into this sport. As an athlete you can only grow if you decide to put the effort in. Indoor track focuses on training to become stronger so one can excel. We had a lot of fun and worked hard at the same time. Personal athletic growth is a very important factor in indoor track."

Led by senior co-captains Megan Fisher and Travis Derr (along with coaches Jackie Rice and Rhonda Rinninstand), the swim team's 0-11 record certainly did not reflect their capabilities. Captain Megan Fisher commented on the growth of the team, stating, "We have all grown, not only as athletes, but closer to one another as well. It was evident that each swimmer improved." Coach Rice also commented on the season, saying, "We had a little team this year, but as individuals we strived to do better each meet." Senior Bailey Phelps placed fourth in the 200 IM, the highest placement for Housy during the BL Tournament.

This was a strong building year for the Mountaineer sluggers. The starting lineup consisted of eight juniors and one freshman. "Everyone matured and played better together as the season went on," says Co-Captain Will Perotti. Brandon Coe led the pitching with an impressive 5-2 record and a one-hitter. Offensively, the team was led by Joey Napolitano and Quentin Kindred. They finished with a record of 10-10, ending their season with an outstanding 5-4 win over Northwestern. "This was a huge win because we came ready to play and wanted to show the league that Housy can beat anyone," says Co-Captain Joey Napolitano. Not only do we get along off the field, but we always come together during games as well," says Co-Captain Bailey Phelps. A significant moment was when the girls exceeded their goal of wanting a team total of 60 steals. Our very own Jaime Conklin beat the seasonal record of 24 steals. "I can honestly say every player on our team has improved," says Co-Captain Emma Olownia. The girls made it into the second round of states. Emma Olownia and Bailey Phelps earned All Star honors. The golf team had their ups and downs. According to senior captain Will Parker, “We were very close to a 500 season, which was a lot better than our 1-14 record last year.” The team did progressively better as the season went on. Although our record was 3-13, it did not reflect the potential our team really had. Everyone got to know each other very well, and we all worked great as a team. The captains as well as all of the teammates, were extremely respectful to one another. We all learned from each other's mistakes. One of the highlights this year was having our number one doubles team - Craig Mackay and Tyler Scarpa - make it to states. Also, Matt Walker made it to the quarter finals in the Berkshire League. LEGGO!

Girls' Lacrosse celebrated their tenth season with an incredible record of 5-10. Led by senior captains Chelsea Zenk, Hunter Nelson, and Megan Williams, the Lady Mountaineers had a tremendous increase in goals scored compared to past seasons. Megan Williams says, "With such a young and competitive team this year, the girls' lacrosse team will not struggle in the future." One significant moment during the season was "defeating Lewis Mills both home and away for the first time ever," according to Chelsea Zenk. Hunter Nelson describes the season as, "Very hard-working; the freshmen stepped up and started to challenge the seniors which allowed the entire team to grow." There was a close call this year: Girls' Lacrosse almost made it to states, but were shy of one goal. The girls remain positive, for they know there is room for improvement in the years to come.

Overall, the Boys' Track team had an outstanding season. We won against many opponents that we were crushed by last year. We had a large number of people qualify for states and BL's. We grew as a team together, and winning against tough teams gave us the confidence boost we needed. We all improved greatly during this season and we are proud of it.

Our season was very successful with every athlete earning a personal record in at least one of their events. We had a great kickoff to our season winning our first meet, and many of our teammates were surprised by their abilities. At least half of the team qualified for Class S State Championships. We showed great growth through our hard work and dedication. We were able to establish an exceptional team that put up a great fight.

Building the Bridge

There are many parts that make up a bridge. They help it to keep it stable. Without these parts, the bridge would fall apart. The staff at HVRHS are the pillars, cement, and steel that serve as the foundation and support of our school.

Approaching the Bridge

On the long stretch of road it seems the bridge is far into the future. The reality is that it approaches faster than one would think. Once there, it seems larger than life and too challenging. The end appears to be faint and unclear. The early travels have their obstacles and challenges that at times seem unbearable. One must choose the path they take along the bridge, learning what it right and what is wrong. The end of the bridge that once was faint is now clearer even through all of the interferences.

Only a few more travels left.

Crossing the Bridge

The paths, routes, and travels, no matter how taken, all meet in the end. The end of the bridge. What lies beyond the bridge is up to the traveler. There is no right way to exit the bridge, and no wrong way. One must take what was learned throughout their journey. Crossing the bridge is the first step to creating the future. By using what was learned, one must then decide where to go to reach the next set of bridges.

The Final

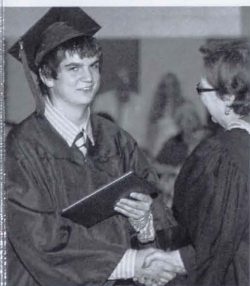

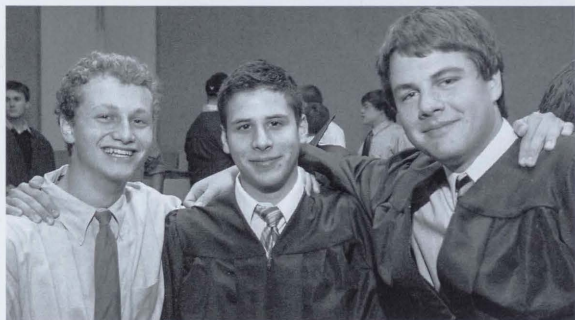

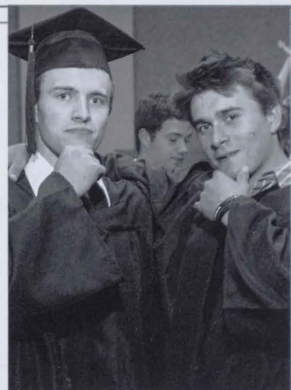

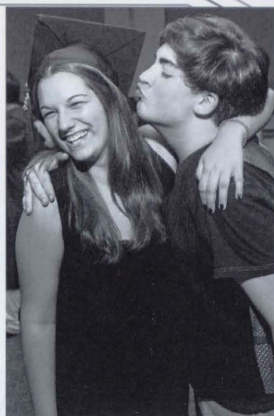

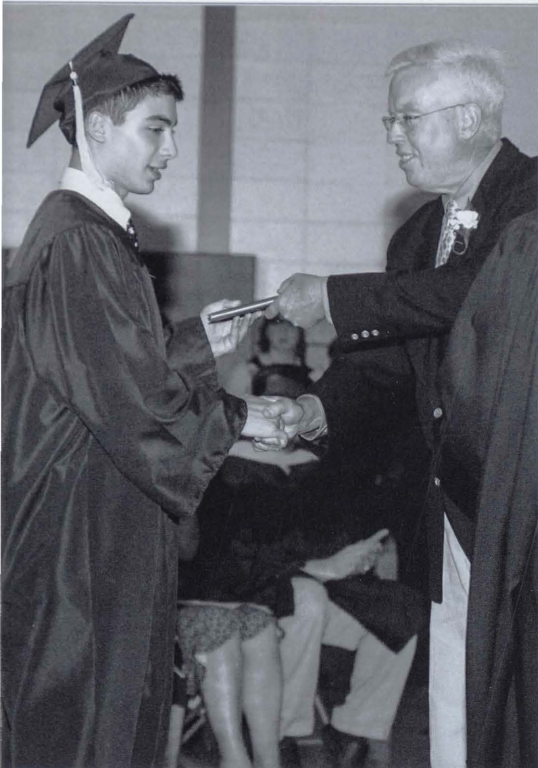

Crossing

The Graduating Class of 2011

June 17, 2011

farewell . adieu . adios . cheerio . ciao . hasta la vista . ta-ta . conje . toodle-oo . gai jian . auf wiedersehen . goodbye

Congratulations Class of 2011!

It seems like just yesterday we started our journey together. I will always remember the Dance of Lights, the Turkey Olympics, and our beautiful balloon-filled Junior Prom. Thank you for all the wonderful memories. I wish each of you in the Class of 2011 much joy and happiness. As you continue your journey through life, believe in yourself and follow your dreams!

Sincerely, Mrs. Dower

TO THE CLASS OF 2011

Well, here you are! Eighteen (or somewhere near it), and being thrown into more of the world—ready or not. With an incomplete tool box, you're being asked to build a future. And slung over your shoulder is a canvas bag with all your successes and failures in it. For many, the failures or inadequacies are like rocks in the bottom of the bag, hard to pull along, slowing you down. You look in the mirror and ask if you're worthy and capable of the future you want—excited, yet afraid—wondering, wondering...

So, what to do?

- 1.) Cut a hole in the bottom of the bag and let all the rocks fall out. You have been given a new start! We can't change our mistakes, but we can learn from them and build on our successes.
- 2.) Be thankful for who you are and where you are in life, even if it's nowhere near where you'd like to be. The red carpet is now spread before you.
- 3.) Know there's a positive plan for your life. Just realize that the choice is yours to seize it or not. We are not our past, but what we choose to become.
- 4.) Look in the mirror, deep inside. Beyond the surface is the real you. We were all born with all the intelligence and given the abilities that we need to succeed at whatever we want. Look deep and see the seeds of greatness that you are!
- 5.) Stay focused on helping others, and your concerns and nervousness will fade.

I challenge you to go out and make a difference in whatever part of the world you choose to function; for you are the hope and you can make it good! Make your life count, and remember that you are never alone!

Thanks for contributing to my life this year.

Go with love, Larry Peck

Thank you teachers, friends and especially family for getting me here. Without them and Ms. Veatch, I would've been lost. Last but not least: thank you Freda for the reliable transportation and company. I love Housy and my friends but it's time to graduate. We better all keep in touch and keep the BNO's alive. In Appreciation...

The Class of 2011 would like to say “thank you” to the entire faculty and staff for making our four years here awe-inspiring. Everything you have done for us has truly been appreciated. Without a doubt, we would like to thank our class advisors, Mr. Peck and Mrs. Foulds, for bringing us together as a class. You guided us through class competitions, dances, senior events, and most importantly, graduation! Your devotion to our class will always be remembered. Thank you for making our senior year unforgettable!

Also, we would like to thank our Interim Vice-Principal, Mr. Bayersdorfer, and our Interim Principal, Mr. Tedford. Even though Mr. Bayersdorfer “retired” last June, he could not resist coming back for at least one more year, and for this we are extremely grateful. Coming into senior year not knowing who our principal was going to be left us wondering how the year was going to go. When Mr. Tedford was chosen, we knew right away that he was going to be a great fit for Housatonic. Whether he was at sporting events, concerts, or various other school events, he was very supportive of his new school community. We can’t think of two better people to lead our school than these two individuals. Again, thank you!

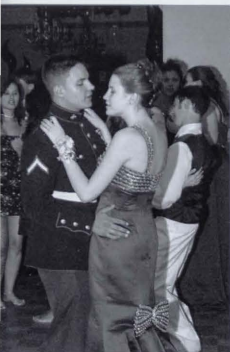

Thank you Staff and Students for sharing time with me during my “retirement.” Respect and Responsibility are keys to everyone’s success. You have been wonderful to work with and I am proud to be member of the Housatonic Community.

~David Bayersdorfer
