I'll Catch The Sun

I'll catch the sun
And never give it back again.
I'll catch the sun
And keep it for my own.
And in a world where no one understands
I'll take my outstretched hand
And offer it to anyone
Who comes along and tells me

He's in need of love.
In need of hope or maybe just a friend.
Perhaps in time I'll even share my sun
With that new anyone
To whom I gave my hand.

This past year the Housatonic Chapter again dominated the State competitions, walking away with five of the nine major categories. In addition to the over-all standing of the group, President Allyn Hurlburt and active members Paul Allyn, David Allen, Bob Wood, and George Pollard won individual awards in their specialties. The standard of excellence the unit has established throughout the years is very significant, and the district is proud of its FFA.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

This past summer we had Ben Freund and Sheree Jackson go abroad for American Field Service. Ben went to Turkey and Sheree went to Costa Rica.

Sheree had this to say about her trip: "Costa Rica is about the size of Connecticut. I lived in the city of Nicoya, where it is the hottest part of the country, and is also the cattle raising area of Costa Rica."

Her "family" consisted of a mother, father, five brothers and two sisters. Her mother cooked on a wood stove out in back of the house. The house itself had five bedrooms, one bathroom, and a large room divided into a kitchen and dining room.

While she was there, Sheree attended school and met many friends. She hated to leave these friends whom she had come to like a lot — and who, in return, hated to see her go, and told her that she was a Costa Rican no matter what anyone said.

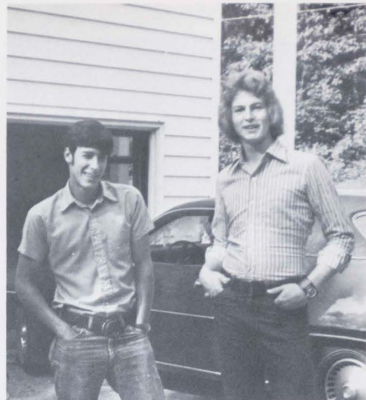

Ben had this to say about Turkey: "Turkey is East and West, old and new, cold and hot, history and geography. I could walk along a street and on one side find a 16th Century house, and on the other side find a 21st Century discotheque. People in Turkey are conservative, people are open-minded, people are religious, people aren't so religious, people are formal, people are casual and countless other contrasts. The father in the Turkish family is most respected. The family itself is a close, warm, and very meaningful object in the Turkish life, even though a 'generation gap' exists very clearly between the parents and the kids."

"Turkish food is very good — it's one of the ways that people show their hospitality. The fashions where I lived were extremely modern as compared to some of the smaller towns where they still wear the veil and keep a few illegal harems."

It was a fantastic experience for Ben, but only a small beginning to intercultural understanding for him.

CARLOS GOMEZ

We have a cute little Latin American student with us this year. Carlos comes from San Jose, Costa Rica, is staying with Steve Tietjen, and says, "I like the people here. I am very happy." Carlos finds very few differences in his way of life from that of the United States. He says that the schools here are much more lenient, but in Costa Rica, life outside of school is very relaxed.

Carlos was on the soccer team and likes living in America and the American way of life, but his dedication is to representing Costa Rica through AFS.

NORIKO GOTO

Of our three AFS'ers this year, we have one girl who comes to us from Japan. Noriko is from Shizuoka, a city of about 450,000 on the main island. She finds life a little slower and quite different here in America, but says that she really loves the trees and hills. Norika, who loves to try everything (especially food), was a little sad because she found out that there wouldn't be a Girls' Basketball team this year, but has made up for missing her favorite sport by proving herself exceptional in two sports she's never played before - soccer and softball.

Noriko is staying with Denise Bergenty and in her spare time likes to cook for the family because the opportunity wasn't offered to her back home in Japan.

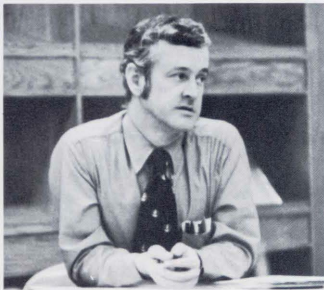

PER FREDERIC THOMAS PETTERSSON

The third exchange student this year was Tom Pettersson, who came from Linkoping, Sweden, which is a city of about 100,000 people just south of Stockholm. Tom stayed with Perry Gasperini in North Canaan during the half year that he attended Regional. He was active socially, and was on the football team during the Fall. Tom left to go to St. Petersburg, Florida for the rest of his stay in the United States.

The football team had its finest season in several years under head coach Roland Chinatti, winning just under half the games played. Although the team did not compete in the Northwest Conference, games were played against conference members Farmington and Gilbert as traditional rivals.

The best win for the Mountaineers involved the opening-season victory over Pine Plains, getting the team off to a good start. Co-captains Craig Faedi and Walt Arbo guided their team to satisfying wins over Dover and Mount Everett before the season was over.

Outstanding offensive players included quarterback Howard Chinatti, and the trio of running backs; Jay Trotta, Bob Beverly, and Mike Conlogue. Conlogue will return next year with Joe Kenny as Co-captains. Chinatti was also a standout on defense (he was a NWC All-Star in 1971), but a mention of defense is not complete without including the name of Joe Miller, elected MVP by his teammates.

The team looks forward to next season with several returning veterans, as well as a strong group of freshmen who will undoubtedly find a place in the lineup. Names like Candito, Holst-Grubbe, and Sprague should be heard of in the near future.

Playing ten games against Northwest Conference foes this season, the Mountaineer soccer team had a difficult season. Although the team was satisfied with the victory over Lewis Mills of Harwinton in their second encounter, the tight first game against Canton was also a fine effort. Canton and Avon were early-season favorites to battle for the league title.

In individual encounters, Farmington scored more points against us than any of the other competitors, but Avon appeared to be the strongest team; eventually winning the league trophy. The advantage lies with these other teams as they have solid grammar school programs, but the events of this year on the Housatonic JV level make things look interesting for the future. Though over-all team enrollment in the sport was small, a great many underclassmen, especially freshmen, came out for the sport and should develop into fine players.

The loss of Captain Mike Hickey due to injuries in the end of the season definitely hurt HVRHS' defensive play. Although unable to provide a consistent scoring threat, exchange student Carlos Gomez was awarded a berth on the NWC All-Star team because of his outstanding footwork. Fast-improving senior John Hurley was voted MVP for his outstanding play throughout the season. Next year's squad will be captained by Chris Blake and Brian Lorch.

BADMINTON

This year several girls were involved in the State Tournament and represented the high school well in their individual competitions. Four of these athletes, as shown in the above left photograph, were freshman Diane Chinatti, senior finalist Karen Chinatti, Japanese exchange student semi-finalist Noriko Goto, and freshman Elyse Harson.

Second place in the Northwest Conference was the best the cross country team could manage, even though it fielded one of the best teams in the school's history. Powerhouse Farmington captured the title, became State Champion, and handed HVRHS one of its four losses.

The expanded schedule saw action against all kinds of teams, and featured Randy Chapell's six wins until he was severely injured at Gilbert. Both Bob Stoddard and Co-captain Perry Casperini took up the slack to continue the winning streak, which reached twelve before the team was defeated. Stoddard and Casperini earned NWC All-Star honors, and the "Fox" and Chapell will return as Co-captains next season. The most satisfying victories were the upsets of New Milford and Avon, and the victory over Thomaston with several top runners slowed by injuries.

Although Bob Stoddard was elected MVP for his steady performance, the wins were all team victories, with "The Pack", led by Co-captain Gary Davis, often earning important points in close contests. Sophomore Steve Belter, Junior Don McKinlay, and Senior Larry Burcroff were the other key members of this group.

With three returning lettermen, the team looks forward to next year's competition. This past season they ended up ranked 7th out of all the medium-sized schools in Connecticut.

This year was the first year that there was an official girls' soccer team as a recognized interscholastic sport. The team was led by the Great Coach Greco and by senior Co-captains Karen Chinatti and Dena Kenny. The other upperclass standouts were fullback Denise Bergen and exchange student Noriko Goto, who was offensive center on the front line and sparked many of the scoring drives.

The high-spirited team established a record of six wins out of eight contests; two of the more memorable games being the close victory over Westover, and the impressive shutout against Berkshire late in the season. All-in-all, the girls shut out their opponents five times, and gave the spectators much to cheer about with their rugged, determined, style of play.

The girls elected Dena Kenny, goalie as 1972 MVP. Next year's Co-captains are Kim Oliver and Sally Michalek. They look forward to the upcoming season with returning underclassmen who were outstanding such as the Co-captains; Joanne Erickson, forward wing; and Donna Marchi, fullback.

Opening the season with a controlled style of play, and priding themselves on their defensive abilities, the Mountaineers got winter sports off to a winning note. Although many fans were not used to this type of ball control, the results began to pay off as the team went on to win the close ones.

Over-all success seemed to escape the team part way through the season, resulting in elimination from tournament competition. The most satisfying victory, however, came near the end of the season when Regional overwhelmed league-leading Gilbert to knock them out of Northwest Conference honors.

The individual statistics were dominated by Captain Howard Chinatti, MVP Bob Stoddard, and Co-MVP Jim Belter. Stoddard, selected to the NWC All-Star team, led the team in six different categories, setting a record with 94 assists. Senior Joe Stanton set a record for Best Field Goal Percentage.

With Stoddard returning next year as captain, and the experience of Joe Kenny and Tim Riley considered, next year's squad could be a winner. Walt Allen, Larry Tyler, and Steve Belter could strengthen this nucleus considerably.

Starting with an impressive showing, the Housatonic Wrestling team walloped Canton to open only their second varsity season as a full-fledged sport. The "Murderer's Row" trio of Captains Tony Tyler, Joe Miller, and Richard Solan contributed outstandingly to the victory.

As the team soon found out, competition in this sport has improved greatly; many schools now support the sport, and victories became harder and harder to come by. The above trio kept winning, Joe Miller obtaining the best record among them and being voted team MVP, but lack of depth hurt the overall team record.

Although the team swamped Litchfield 49 to 12, the best win came in the first match against Farmington by the narrow margin of 35 to 32, and satisfaction came late in the season when the team placed 4th in the Canton Invitational. Sectional qualifiers included Miller, Tyler, and Smith, although none went into the semi-finals in State competition.

The most improved athlete can be either heavyweight Don Farwell or lightweight Jimmy "Gig" Smith, and the return of both of them, as well as several other seasoned wrestlers should provide another exciting season next year.

This hardworking, small band of talented girls served as many sporting events this past year as was possible. This is, obviously, an even more difficult task when the sports program becomes more complex here at Regional as it has been doing the past several seasons.

Captain Judy Casey handled the chores of the football games, as well as led the group through their intricate steps indoors in the basketball season. Often the Junior Varsity cheerleaders, with Mel Bergenty as leader, would cover soccer games. With both varsity and JV soccer games being played at the same time, this was not an easy assignment.

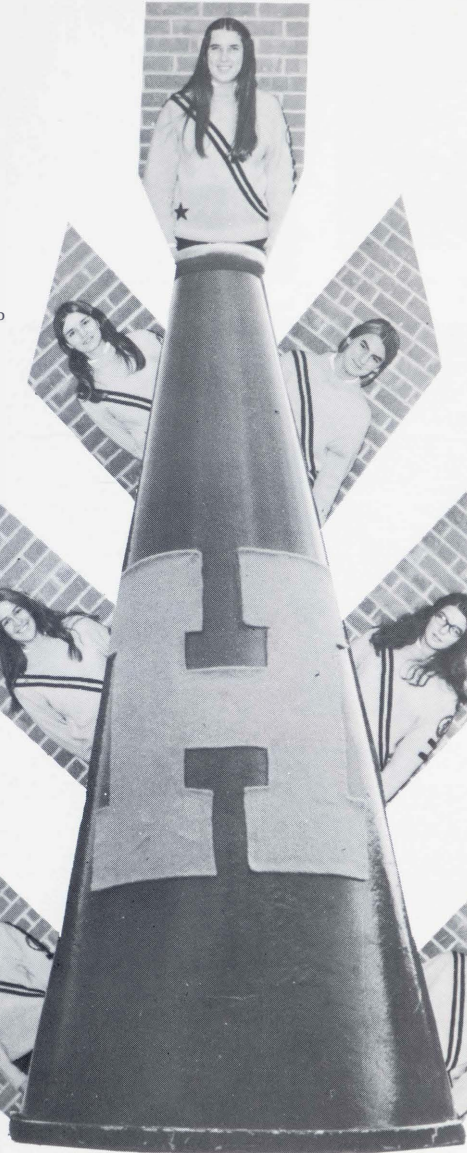

Volunteers from both groups assisted the cross country team as scorers and officials in addition to their other duties. Coach Judi Thormann also employed the girls as teachers this year, and a freshman cheerleading squad was formed, and was very active in the winter.

Several girls were in constant attendance as a morale factor for wrestling matches, although no organized cheering was performed. Most of the girls switched from cheering to participation in the spring, and played softball. The only drawback to this arrangement, in spite of the fact that the team was very successful, was that the baseball and track teams missed the efforts of the cheerleaders.

Although expected to do better this year, the baseball team suffered from lack of strong, consistent pitching, and ranked fairly far down in the Northwest Conference. Head Coach Ron Dower, in his first year as pilot, began to form a nucleus around several upperclassmen.

The most outstanding of these seniors was Co-captain Howard Chinatti, NWC All-Star and team MVP, whose bat and defensive play in the field kept the team in contention — he also pitched from time to time. Co-captain Jim Belter faced the burden of the pitching chores, although Pat Foley, only a junior, worked his way into the rotation.

Of the wins this season, the most satisfying was Belter's shutout of Lewis Mills. He was backed up by enough hitting to establish a 7-0 score. The 3-1 loss to Farmington was also an excellent game. The slugfest at Berlin, even though a loss, was a crowd-pleaser because of the constant runs scored throughout the game, ending in a 17 to 11 score.

Centered around Foley, team-leading hitter Don Smith, reliable Tim Riley, and promising newcomers Mike Cahill and Jack Baird, the team should move up in the standings next year. Veterans Steve Belter and Mike Joachim should provide the experience needed next spring.

As a team, the track and field squad did not overpower its opponents this year, but there were many outstanding individual performances. Two meets were close enough to go to either team, but a lack of depth in sprinting and some field events hurt the team's overall success.

A good win was the victory over Berlin, a perennial foe; the action of the meet being much closer than the final winning margin showed. The team did very well against Farmington, and showed up in the scoring column at the First Invitational Dutchess County Track Officials and Coaches Association Meet, ending up third in "Class B."

Co-captain Tom Warner was very close to the record in the 440, and proved a strong competitor all year, as did Co-captain Tony Tyler in the jumps and in the discus. Joe Miller scored a lot of points in his several specialties, but the surprise of the season was Bob Beverly's sprinting ability - he and steady Larry Tyler will be the Field Captains next spring. Undisputed top miler in the conference, Perry Gasperini was also selected as team MVP, and led the NWC All-Star ranks with undefeated half-miler, Gary Davis, Tom Warner in the quarter, and next year's Track Captain, distance runner Randy Chapell.

These Tri-captains, several juniors, and some very competitive and talented underclassmen give the team something to look forward to in the near future.

With an outstanding won-lost record against top competition, the girls' softball team under new head coach Judy Wright excelled all season. Sporting the second-best record in the school this year — a winning percentage of .750 — the team was one to be feared and respected. Their only problem this spring seemed to be the pitchers of Avon.

The 43 to 8 drubbing of Pine Plains showed how the team could hit, the 15 to 14 victory over Monument Mountain showed skill in the clutch, and the split with Mount Everett showed the team's spirit, but the best game of the season was the 9 to 8 victory at New Milford. New Milford was rated a better team, New Milford was a powerhouse in the sport, New Milford was undefeated, but Housatonic won the game.

Two of the three captains, Karen Chinatti, and Dena Kenny, have been stalwart competitors over the years. To find an AFS student like Noriko Goto, who could play the game, become a Tri-captain and MVP, was only an additional bonus this spring. Steady Linda Kroehle, Mel Bergenty and Sue St. Martin rounded out the upper-classmen starters behind pitcher Denise Bergenty.

With several of the above returning, and a fine group of freshmen fighting for starting assignments, the girls may well do it again. Congratulations.

There is no writeup about this sports exhibition because the editors are still trying to figure out how the HARLEM DIPLOMATS could have possibly defeated the HVRHS FACULTY, which . . . of course . . . they did.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Playing a full 18-game schedule, a developing young Ninth Grade squad managed a fine season of 9-9 this winter. They won the first game against Junior Republic, then lost the next game, and then in a back-and-forth, winning-and-losing campaign, provided excitement for the local fans. Six times they were involved in game decided by four points or less, winning four of those contests. The most satisfying of those wins being the 35 to 34 victory over Gilbert. Led by Randy Tatsapaugh, Mike Tyler, Mike Godburn, and Ed Tyburski, the frosh finished the season placing well at the Junior Republic Invitational Tournament.

I'll Catch The Sun

I'll catch the sun
And never give it back again.
I'll catch the sun
And keep it for my own.
And in a world where no one understands
I'll take my outstretched hand
And offer it to anyone
Who comes along and tells me

He's in need of love.
In need of hope or maybe just a friend.
Perhaps in time I'll even share my sun
With that new anyone
To whom I gave my hand.

Rod McKuen
