HAPPY RETIREMENT, WALTER BURCROFF

Thirty-five years of dedicated service to HVRHS and especially the VoAg program still leaves Mr. Burcroff many years after his stint here, as he began teaching in New York State at a young age. We will remember his contributions to public speaking, the planning of programs, and the follow through of projects by students in school and on the farm as demands that made us better educated. Thank you.

SOCCER

A shaky start and an unaccustomed won-lost record . . . new coach Steve Patterson got the team in late August and by the end of the season there finally was a great come-from-behind winning streak . . . tri-captain Kelly Martin had a strong scoring season, along with sophomore Jenny Ocif; good enough for All-League honors . . . senior veterans on the line, Missy Carlson and Amy Loi, also looked good . . . a defense led by tri-captain Kristin Scholl, tri-captain goalie Polly Tobin, and MVP sophomore Erin Cole . . . also featured Tracy Hoffman and Lahdi Besmer . . . great enrollment . . . seemed like the whole freshman class was on the team . . . looks good for next year.

FIELD HOCKEY

Great start for this veteran team . . . began with a win over Thomaston . . . a close loss to powerhouse Shepaug, then another win . . . Senior Captains Bishop and Dunstan steadied the team . . . another win and two ties, and the team was always in contention . . . All-State and All-BL Kim Stevens showed the way . . . a solid core of seniors were behind her . . . the contributions of the juniors were many; Kelley Martin manning the goal again, Kristin McKay and Andrea Perotti's constant shots-on-goal . . . mid season saw a scoring slump that would not go away, yet this team was never beaten . . . sometimes it just didn't have as many points as the opposition.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

A young, inexperienced team . . . dues were paid by a squad of untested non-veteran underclassmen . . . the fourth win was the best win, a come-from-behind, last period, upset over Shepaug . . . Senior Missy Carlson with co-elder Chris Hurlley were the only vets. . . Coach Denise Dower said, "It's an odd feeling to have the season over so early and not be tournament bound," but hopes are high for next season as solid performances came from Juniors Andrea Perotti and Chris Neville . . . additional good play came from Gwen Fulco and Kristin McKay, and the corps of varsity sophomores included Mary Wilbur and Jenny Ocif among others . . . JV Coach Roland Chinatti's 11-7 squad will aim more talent towards a bright '87-'88 winter.

A "re-building year" . . . lack of experience hurt the team's chance in the BL . . . Coach Costa stressed youth in his rookie year . . . Only MVP-Junior Peter Foley a steady veteran . . . Hope of the future rests with Frosh Robert Hewins and James Lombardi. Keith Marks and Eugene Pickert did well as first-year upperclassmen . . .
